GENERAL CHAIRMAN SEHRING APPEALS FOR GENEROUS SUPPORT

ABOUT THIS — AND — ABOUT THAT

By OLIVER GEDEIST

AN IDEA.—An Ex-GI made a suggestion the other day that I shall pass along to you. It may seem reasonable to you, but it will get scant attention from the Washington bigwigs who should pay some attention to it. The suggestion was made in a discussion of the desperate condition of the Chinese in setting up an orderly government, which has never existed since the days when failure to obey the emperor meant prompt cutting off of the head.

SEND TEACHERS.—The young man had been in China. He did not like what he saw. Too much space would be required to tell all of what he saw. But persons who have visited China and studied their problems can understand. The ex-GI wants Uncle Sam to subsidize thousands of Chinese teachers and business men who have lived here long enough to understand our institutions and send these teachers to China to teach and instill the spirit of the United States of America in the minds and hearts of the Chinese.

TOO GOOD.—The idea is too good to succeed. But if it had been done 25 years ago, there would not be the present danger of war, and there would not be the colossal failure of the Chiang Kai-shek government. Education would have set up enough honest men to rout out a substantial number of the hereditary crooks the beginning of whose thieving dates back to infinity.

TOO LATE.—But it's too late for the present emergency. Communists seem almost to have China by the throat. And success in that will end any chance of starting the educational program suggested by the former Pacific warrior. A little more, and it is possible that Red Russia will have all China under the iron heel. Then, woe to the world as we know it. Then it will take more than atomic energy as we know it now to stave off defeat for the rest of the world. Our smugness will not save us; that is certain. And we will pay a lot more than to be under the monstrous heel as slaves than we are willing to pay now to keep out from under the heel.

TOO BAD.—It's too bad that we cannot take a dozen of the best business minds of the country and put them in charge of the government with authority to run the government without interference and thus change the ways of the world to ruin and make peace a real factor. None of the politicians now in office or likely to be elected have the guts to take a chance on political defeat by doing what is needed to head off the destruction planned for the real democratic countries of the world. We lived 16 long years under a dictatorship that distorted our pattern of life and set back progress by a century. A dozen years more under a group of men having native American viewpoint and the courage to act courageously and vigorously might save us from the vicious forces being assembled to crush us.

RUNNING LOW.—The sand of time is running low. Destruction is headed our way. The capture of China by the Communists will nearly seal our doom. And for that we can blame the selfishness of the New Deal dictatorship, which, while doing a few good things, rode mercilessly on toward destruction for our country—and others.

Local Service Last Spring Emphasized

Beginning March 1 Will county volunteer workers will start to canvas for Red Cross funds in the annual drive, according to an announcement issued this week by Henry Sehring, general chairman. The group will be headed by Paul McKeown, George Bartling, and Walter O. Henschbach.

"The stress of the Red Cross program has been transferred from services to the armed forces to continuing program for the disabled veterans," the chairman said. "Furthermore, the Red Cross needs to carry on a very active disaster relief service and to expand the new project of furnishing whole blood and its derivatives without charge to all people in the United States."

In explaining these three major activities, Mr. Sehring pointed out that in Will county the home service division of the local chapter is very active. "During 1947, this division assisted 374 servicemen or their families with financial problems, in welfare inquiries, or in expediting emergency furloigns, gave financial help to 1,729 veterans; aided them in claims service or in family counseling.

"Through the volunteer services division," the general chairman continued, "18 Gray Ladies spent a total of 3,039 hours at Hines hospital, providing personal services to the wounded veterans that otherwise would go undone. In addition, fourteen arts and skilled workers, who teach disabled veterans new ways of earning a living, gave 1,194 hours of handicraft instruction to the hospitalized veterans. Then, in our own community," pointed out the chairman, "we had floods where the help of the Red Cross was needed and gotten. Those were the floods of last spring when hundreds of families in Joliet, Lockport, and New Lenox were flooded out. The Will county Red Cross chapter was right on the job and provided the stricken families with clothing, bedding, furniture, and food and got some of them temporary shelter. Red Cross workers also helped in the typhoid clinics set up by the Will County Health Department.

"The Red Cross has already started a blood program which, when it is finished, will allow whole blood and its derivatives to be furnished to anyone in the United States free of charge. It is expected that the project will be fully underway in the United States in the next five years."

If all prayers were answered, what would happen to the world?

V. F. W. AUX. PARTY TO AID FIRE VICTIMS

The VFW Ladies Auxiliary Card party to be held Saturday, February 28, at Hatch hall, Mokena, will devote all proceeds to the two families whose homes were destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Gross and their eight-year-old daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Shelby, who are living on the Ervin Marti farm. Mr. Shelby is a member of the VFW post 725. Persons wishing to contribute to this worthy cause in any way may get in touch with Mrs. Rose Steinhagen or Mrs. Fred Hentsch.

The next regular VFW Ladies Auxiliary meeting will be held March 4 at Hatch hall. Election of officers will be held then.

Mr. Johnson is a member of the village board of trustees of Bensenville and is professor of political science in the college of commerce of DePaul University. He graduated from Cornell college, Mount Vernon, Iowa, after attending public schools in Chicago and Morgan Park military academy.

Before going to DePaul, Mr. Johnson taught history at Northwestern Military and Naval academy and Chicago Latin School, for boys. He is 36 years old. He expects to specialize in tax legislation, he stated.

When you call the world "black," remember you are a "man of the world."

AZALEA SHOW TO OPEN FEBRUARY 21

The sixth annual azalea show, one of the most spectacular indoor arrays of azaleas, rhododendron, and camellias to be found anywhere, will be presented by the Chicago Park district at Garfield and Lincoln Park conservatories starting Saturday, February 21, and continuing through Sunday, March 14. The conservatories will be open from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily and Sundays, with special lighting effects to enhance the beauty of the evening displays.

Against a background of natural logs, rock, and moss, closely resembling the mountainous abode of the azalea and rhododendron in China, Japan, and Korea, thousands of resplendent blossoms will form a vista of unusual beauty. With the predominant colors deep pink and salmon, shades will vary to orange, red, lavender, and rose-purple. Dwarf plants with their tiny delicate flowers and large specimen azaleas up to eight feet in diameter, some of which are 40 years old, will make up the display.

A recent addition to this exhibit, used last year for the first time, the Camellia will again be shown. Twelve varieties of beautifully formed flowers in dazzling red, pink, white, or variegated hues will be an interesting feature this year. There will be no admission charge. The show attracts more than 200,000 visitors, coming from distant states.

The state of Colorado boasts about 6 million acres of farm lands. It boasts of 35 minerals, of which gold and silver lead; it is the chief beet sugar producing state and has over sixteen beet sugar refineries; on account of its fine summer climate its tourists trade is very large, its largest city, Denver, is the trade center for the Rock Mountain states.

EXPLODING OIL STOVE IN GROSS HOME STARTS DESTRUCTIVE BLAZE

ACCIDENTS SUBJECT AT MARLEY

"Accidents on the farm and their prevention" will be the topic for the men's class at the Marley Farm Life program Wednesday night, March 3, in Marley church. Della Cashen has been secured to talk to the women on "Millinery magic." She has a millinery shop in Joliet and has graduated from a course in millinery. The film "A Stitch in Time" will be shown as well as two other film strips, on Farm Safety.

"Place of the church in Agriculture" was the topic discussed by the Marley Farm Life group at the first forum program at the Marley church last Wednesday night. Also discussed at the program was "Boundary Lines," emphasizing elimination of color, race, and creed barriers.

A potluck supper was served preceding the forum. There were 65 men, women, and children present.

The Marley farm life program is conducted each week thru the cooperation of the church, the farm group, and Max Kuster, of the vocational agriculture department of the Joliet high school.

ERRAND SAVES RAUCH HOME

The Fred Rauch home in Mokena narrowly escaped destruction by fire last Sunday afternoon.

About 2 o'clock the Rauchs, preparing to go away, found it necessary to return to the house. Upon opening the door to Mr. Rauch's dark room used in connection with his photography, smoke burst upon him. Fire starting in the dark room had burned into the ceiling of the basement, and Mr. Rauch quickly put it out with water.

The dark room was entirely destroyed. A defective wire was blamed.

Mrs. M. Geuther's Grandmother Dies

Mrs. Marie von Harg, maternal grandmother of Mrs. Milton Geuther, Mokena, died Sunday, February 22, at the home of her son in St. Petersburg, Fla. The body has been brought north for burial in the family lot in Oak Ridge cemetery, LaGrange. The Rev. William Riemann will officiate at funeral services in the cemetery at 2 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon.

Matches

It's pretty difficult to get something for nothing these days, but there's one item left that is used by the average person 14 times a day, and two out of five times he doesn't have to pay. That little item is the match.

The manufacture of matches is a $25 million-a-year industry in the United States, reports the World Book Encyclopedia. Each year, more than 500 billion matches are produced, and of 200 billion book matches made in the United States every year, about 196 billion are given away with the sale of cigars, cigarettes, and tobacco.

Sweden had us topped for many years in the production of matches. The Swedish Match company, formed in 1913 by Ivar Krueger, had match factories in 43 countries of the world and manufactured most of the world's matches. Krueger is said to have invented the common superstition that "three on a match" is unlucky, in order to sell more matches. His match empire lasted until 1932, when it was discovered he'd been using the company's capital for his own speculations.

Sweden now ranks fourth down the line led by the United States. Great Britain ranks second and the Soviet Union third.

Find Haven in Home Of Nick Graybash

Two families were made homeless last Thursday afternoon when fire destroyed the residence of the Robert Shelby and the Bert Gross families at 190th and Wolf road on the old Ervin Marti farm.

The house was owned by Mr. Shelby, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. Gross, the former occupying the ground floor, while the Gross' lived on the second floor.

The building had been converted from a milk house, to two flats, and the families had been living there about one year.

The families were without insurance, and everything they owned was lost in the fire.

Firemen attributed the fire to the explosion of an oil stove in the Gross apartment. The fire made such headway that the building was well on the way to total loss before Mokena and New Lenox fire departments could be called.

The families were given temporary shelter by the Nick Graybash family, living in the old Marti farm home, in four rooms.

Furniture and clothing loss was estimated at $2,500. House loss was estimated at $5,000.

Mokena V. F. W., of which Mr. Shelby is a member, quickly supplied clothing for the families, including the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gross, and the Red Cross supplied bedding and undergarments for the women.

Mokena V. F. W. post has announced that its next party at Hatch hall will be a benefit for the families made destitute by the fire.

Messrs Shelby and Gross are employed by a Chicago contractor.

Texan to Aid Disabled Vets At Sports Show

Disabled veterans of the Chicago area will be given special instructions in fishing, casting and other sports activities at the International Sports, Travel and Boat show, February 29, March 1, 2, and 3, at navy pier by Andy Anderson, Texan who is volunteering a great percentage of his time to aid war-handicapped men.

By use of special gadgets, even men who have lost hands, arms, or legs are taught to cast, hold a rod, reel, hit a golf ball, bowl, and otherwise enjoy the pleasures of physical activity which has been denied them.

The Texan has developed a number of gadgets which he gives to handicapped veterans.

The outdoor expert will appear in a special booth at the navy pier event to demonstrate to disabled veterans the use of his various gadgets. He takes no remuneration for his work or for the devices. He has been at his self-appointed chore for seven years, since he first saw amputees at a hospital he visited to make a talk on sports.

Easter Church News

Pastors of churches in Semmler Newspaperland are requested to supply The Semmler Newspapers with programs for Easter Sunday not later than Friday, March 19. The Semmler Newspapers will then be on a new schedule of home print and it will be necessary to have copy for the Easter Special not later than the date given.

In addition to being noted for its bluegrass region with its fine stock, Kentucky boasts of its tobacco production, which is second largest in the nation. Corn is the state's second largest crop, its oil production is considerable and its manufacturing, transportation and financial interests are large.

Big Advance Ticket Sales Reported for Flower Show

Gardeners preparing Chicago Park District's display for National Flower and Garden Show, scheduled for Chicago Coliseum, March 14-21.

Early reports on advance ticket sales for the 25th National Flower and Garden Show indicate that hundreds of garden and women's clubs located outside Chicago will attend the March 14-21 flower spectacle in groups, Violet Correll, chairman of the Ticket committee, said today.

"Many clubs already have chartered transportation to bring members to the Coliseum for the show," Miss Correll stated. She pointed to the fact that advance tickets are selling at $1.00, including tax, at women's clubs, garden clubs and florists—while admission at the gate will be $1.25—a special boon to clubs or flower lovers who will attend the show in groups. Advance sales close March 10.

A feature of the 1948 show stimulating special interest in garden clubs is the American offering the largest since before the war for horticultural and floral art. Entries in these classes made by any group of amateurs or individuals interested in flowers. Competitions in six classes will be accepted: table settings, still life pictures or niches, arrangements in horticultural manner, miniatures, flower arrangements suitable for different areas of the home, and wall arrangements.

The National Flower and Garden Show is the highlight event in the yearly program of the Society of American Florists whose primary aim is the education of the general public in the scientific development of floriculture and horticulture. All profits from the show are channeled into public services including the endowment of educational scholarships and fellowships and aid to civic societies whose work is to inspire the use of flowers and growing plants for more gracious living.

Clever Crooks Carry On Counterfeiting in Prison

In 1899 in Philadelphia, a clever pair of crooks, Arthur Taylor and Baldwin Bredell, were convicted of counterfeiting U. S. $100 bills and then sent to Moyamensing prison to await sentence, says Collier's. Within several months, the men had counterfeited and gotten in circulation 32 excellent $20 notes, having made them at night in their cell with a few smuggled-in materials and tools which did not include a camera but did include a printing press no larger than a cigar box.

Upon confessing later, the convicts re-enacted their feat before a group of experts who had sworn it was impossible without a camera and an eight-ton press in a sizable workroom.

START FROM SCRAPS

Boys Comb Rubbish Heaps For Boat Contest Materials

It's a treasure hunt in the rubbish heap for boys all over the United States. They are seeking old tin cans, mother's castoff garters, scraps of wood, paper clips, rubber bands and even left-over paint, all of which will be used for building entries in the first nationwide Skipper's Cup model speedboat contest.

To build a swift and sturdy craft for less than $1 is the immediate objective of many of the quarter million youngsters who are members of or affiliated with Boys' Clubs of America. This organization and Eveready Battery company are co-sponsors of the nationwide contest.

If the "skipper" qualifies locally, his next aim is to survive regional eliminations so he can race his speedboat in the Reflecting Pool at Washington April 10 and 11 for final honors.

The national contest is dated to coincide with annual observance of Boys' Club Week.

The contest is limited to boys under 16, all of whom are supplied with working drawings of model types. The model boat was designed by Douglas Rolfe, who also will serve as one of the judges of the national finals. Instructions covering length, weight and detail govern all series. Hulls must be completed and water speed tests certified to national headquarters on or before March 13.

Builders of the best boats locally will receive awards of tiny, two-ounce electric motors and a supply of flashlight batteries. Winners in the seven Boys' Club regions of the U. S. will receive regional Skipper's cups.

In the national finals in Washington the seven boys who score top time trials, regardless of region, will compete before U. S. and foreign celebrities under the shadow of the Lincoln Memorial.

Judges will include Guy Lombardo, band leader and speedboat champion; Bill Stern and other well-known sports figures. Former President Hoover is serving as honorary chairman of the national committee.

Local craftsmanship contests will precede speed trials. Judging, which will be on a basis of point competition, will cover basic design, originality, workmanship, finish and overall appearance.

Woman Lighthouse Keeper Quits Post As Feet Are 'Tired'

TURKEY POINT, MD.—Because her feet are tired and she wants to "just rest," Mrs. Fannie Salter, the last woman lighthouse keeper on Chesapeake bay, has given up her job.

Believed to be the only qualified lighthouse keeper of her sex in the nation, Mrs. Salter retired from a job she has held for 23 years. She took charge of the Turkey Point tower on February 11, 1925, under appointment by Calvin Coolidge. She succeeded her husband, who had been the keeper for three years before his death.

On sick leave since last September, the woman light tender explains that "climbing the tower has given me fallen arches."

Although she has no definite plans for the future, Mrs. Salter, who is in her 60s, insists that she will remain near the water. Her immediate plans are to "just rest and catch up on long-delayed visits with relatives."

He Gets Stung Daily—But It's His Living

BALTIMORE.—Harold J. Franklin gets stung several times a day—but he makes his living by doing it. Franklin's job entails thrusting his arm into a cage filled with 3,000 mosquitoes. After a minute he withdraws his arm and counts the bites. If they total about 60, well and good. If not, he repeats the process in another cage until he can get the required number of bites.

War Vets Respond To Call for Blood

ATLANTA, GA.—For 24 veterans of battlefields extending from Luzon to St. Lo, the call for blood was enough.

Many of them gratefully remembered that their own lives had been saved by blood plasma during the war, and here was Lawson veterans' hospital appealing for blood donors.

All 24, with Purple Hearts shining on their jackets, lined up at the hospital to give blood.

Proud Son Sees Widowed Mother In Cap and Gown

ITHACA, N. Y.—When the library tower chimed at Cornell university peeled forth their congratulations to mid-year graduates, Jonathan Hartwell Harwood III, aged 4, near burst with pride.

Among the young women in academic robes was his mother, Virginia Oake Harwood. Few fellows have the privilege of seeing their mothers graduate from college.

Jonny doesn't know it, but he was the chief reason why his mother finished her course in the college of home economics. Jonny's father fought in the invasion of Normandy, June 6, 1944; and he never came back.

Jonny's dad graduated from Cornell, too—in 1942. And his mother, whose parents live in Lockport, N. Y., left school in her sophomore year to marry him. They didn't have much time together—just a couple of summers while dad was training at Fort Bragg. Then he was sent to England to train as a Ranger—and was made a captain. Then came D-Day. . . .

"People thought I was crazy when I decided to take my two-and-one-half-year-old son to Ithaca with me in the fall of 1945 and continue college," Mrs. Harwood admits. "Maybe I was a little crazy. But I had to have something to do—something to occupy my time and my mind. I could be a better mother to Jonny, I felt, if I graduated from college and was prepared to earn my living."

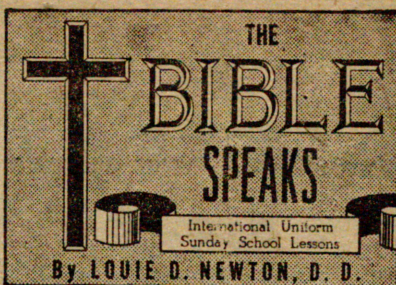

The pension and insurance money made it possible for them to rent a small Ithaca apartment and live in modest comfort. And Jonny went to Cornell, too. Jonny attended the college's nursery school. He also will be graduated this year—from nursery school to kindergarten.

Sale of Loafing Space To Restore Old Plaza

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Appealing to the weaker side of man, Albuquerque Historical society offered loafing privileges in the plaza in return for donations in a drive for funds to restore the old town plaza. Results were good, officials of the society report.

The scale ran: For $8.55, one square foot of loafing space; for $10, plain and fancy loafing anywhere; for $17.10, loafing privileges with frills; for $25, your child's footprint in concrete, and for $50, your own footprint.

When he finds a hungry community of mosquitoes, he covers his arm with insecticide and thrusts it in again, giving the insects another opportunity for a vicious bite on his arm. Once again he must laboriously count the number of bites. Franklin is a laboratory technician for a local chemical company. The process is a test of the power of mosquito repellents which the company is developing.

SCRIPTURE: Acts 16:9, 10; Romans 10:8-15; Ephesians 3:8-12. DEVOTIONAL READING: Romans 10:8-15.

World Mission of Church

Lesson for February 29, 1948

JOHN WESLEY said, "The world is my parish." Many another Christian has entertained this great concept, and that is precisely what Jesus wants us to understand concerning the sweep and scope of his Kingdom.

Sunday's lesson brings us to consider three great passages — Acts 16:9, 10; Romans 10:8-15; Ephesians 3:8-12. Read these carefully, and you will feel the winds of God lifting up the flaps of the tent of your small habitation until you will catch glimpses of the far horizon.

CHURCH AROUND THE WORLD "GO YE into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation," said Jesus, Mark 16:15. There is no backward definition of the mission of the church in these great words of Jesus. Just as Paul was summoned to cross over into Europe with the Gospel, so are we commanded to make Christ known to all lands. He loves everybody.

"Jesus loves the little children, All the children of the world; Yellow, brown, or black, or white, They are precious in his sight, Jesus loves the little children of the world."

REACHING THE WORLD JUST as Paul went from one land to another, so may every Christian boy and girl do. Each church can reach out hands of blessing to all the world.

How? Through our gifts. Our gifts for missions, joined with the gifts of all the other members of our local church, joined with the gifts of many other churches, go out in multiplied blessing through the missionaries to make Christ known around the world.

How? Through our prayers. As we pray for the redemption of the world, we fortify the missionaries — teachers, doctors, preachers — in all the parts of the world.

How? Through our sympathetic understanding of the conditions under which people live in other lands. Just now we are giving clothes and food to help the stricken peoples of the war-ravaged lands. These gifts of material things bear their message of our Christian concern for all who suffer. Thus we are extending the reach of our individual lives and the reach of our churches to the ends of the earth.

PUBLISHING SALVATION "HOW beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth glad tidings, that publisheth peace . . . that publisheth salvation," Isaiah 52:7.

The world mission of the church is here pictured in the exquisite language of the ancient prophet, with which words we may link the declaration of the great apostle, "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved," Romans 8:13.

Publishing salvation is the chief task of the church of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the objects of this universal message are the souls of all men. There is universal need, and here is the adequate and available answer.

See how this conception of the world mission of the church brings into focus the one hope for civilization. The only voice that carries across the barriers of this troubled world is the voice of salvation through Jesus Christ. Let that word be sounded in any spot on this earth, and some waiting heart will be lifted up.

THE UNSEARCHABLE RICHES AND what are we to say about the message we have to publish? Paul puts it well in Ephesians 3:8-12, when he declares:

"Unto me, who am less than the least of all the saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ. . . ."

In another place we read about the "unspeakable gift of God," II Corinthians 9:15. The message, then, is one of unsearchable riches, an unspeakable gift.

In this message is healing for the peoples of the earth. If the true mission of the church is understood and voiced in all of the ways by which the Gospel may today be given to the world, we shall see the fulfillment of the dreams of the prophets, and the angels about the throne of God will shout for joy.

As Paul changed his course in the long ago, heeding the Macedonian call, so may we today find ourselves turning about in our response to the Holy Spirit's leading; but let us not be afraid so long as we are sincerely seeking to publish glad tidings to all men.

Spider Must Be Cautious To Stay Free of Its Net

A spider doesn't stick to its web for several reasons. First, the spider treads only on the strands of the web which are not sticky. Second, it never lets its body touch the web. Third, the spider secretes a liquid which oils up the claws and prevents them from sticking to the silk.

Despite all this, however, accidents will happen—sometimes a spider does get caught in its own web.

Course of Bullet

If a bullet traveling at the rate of 300 miles an hour is shot backward from the tail end of an airplane going at exactly the same rate of speed, theoretically, it would fall in a straight line to the earth.

That's a Point Instructor—Remember, every man should know himself. Pupil—Maybe so, but in doing so, he wastes a lot of valuable time that might be spent making more desirable acquaintances.

Even That! A tourist called out to an old native of the village he was passing through: "Hey, Uncle, how far is it to Biddleburg?"

"Well," replied the native, "it used to be 21 miles, but the way things have gone up around here, it must be nigh unto 35 miles now."

Reserved A new family moved into the neighborhood and Mrs. Fenwick was very much interested in them. "They seem to be such a devoted couple," she reported to her husband. "He kisses her every time he goes out, and waves to her from the sidewalk. Why don't you do that?"

"Good grief, my dear, I don't even know the woman yet," replied Mr. Fenwick.

TELEVISION NEARING

BILLION-DOLLAR INDUSTRY

Within five years television is expected to reach the proportions of a billion-dollar industry and within a year the number of persons who will be able to view television in the United States will range from 30 to 60 millions in 24 states depending upon the rate of progress in completing station facilities and in producing receivers, it is estimated by National Patent Council.

Today in the United States 12 television stations are operating on regular schedules and 56 others have been granted construction permits by the Federal Communications commission. These 68 stations are located in 41 cities and have reception areas that include half the states of the Union.

Hiram Maxim, son of the inventor of the Maxim silencer for guns, has patented a snowplow to be attached to the bumper of an automobile. The attachment is a simple one, requiring no additional equipment to enable an automobile to operate it.

Farmer Turns "Water Faucet"
Grows 163 Bushels of Corn

Fort Morgan, Colo. (Special).—Last summer, when drouth gripped the cornfields of the Nation, Harold Lenhardt, who farms 80 acres near here, turned on the "water faucet" and produced a record-breaking corn yield of 163.8 bushels per acre. His yield won the 1947 National DeKalb Corn Growing Championship, and the Colorado State Championship. "Faucet farmer" Lenhardt farms by irrigation with water from the huge South Platte Valley irrigation system. In addition, he has a 135 foot well for emergency use.

Second and third place winners in the DeKalb Corn Contest were also Colorado irrigation farmers. John and Edwin Frieauf of Brush, Colo. (above left), grew 161.6 bushels per acre for second place in the Nation, and W. E. Ambrose (shown with wife), a 75-year old farmer from Fort Morgan, Colo., took third with 150.3 bushels per acre.

WINS ILLINOIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Walter Behrends, Mason County farmer, won the 1947 Illinois DeKalb Corn Growing Championship with 141.4 bushels per acre. Mr. Behrends spring-plowed, worked his seed bed with a disk, then drilled his seed in 40 inch rows on May 22. His contest field had been in clover sod. No commercial fertilizer or barnyard manure was used. All yields in the DeKalb Contest were made on selected 5-acre contest plots.

Planned Progress of Rock Island benefits

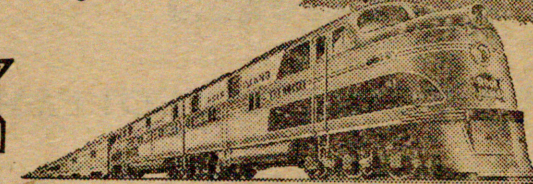

Returning to private control with a new strong financial structure, The Rock Island Lines move forward into a second decade of Planned Progress.

Ten years ago the first six Rockets went into service, followed by 14 more ultra-modern streamlined trains. Then came Rocket Freights, 1333 bridges built or rebuilt, curves straightened, grades reduced, centralized traffic control with short wave radio, new car shops, new testing laboratories, and improved roadbed.

In the years ahead every American will benefit in some way from The Rock Island Lines' program of Planned Progress—which means ability to move passengers and freight swiftly, safely and economically. The people in 14 great states will benefit by direct Rock Island service, while those living in the remaining 34 will benefit by fast, efficient connections with Rock Island Lines.

Today twenty-five thousand employees, trained and experienced in many crafts, will be found at their assigned tasks at every hour, day and night, summer and winter, meeting all responsibilities to the public. For railroad progress, look to Rock Island!

RINGWORM SPREADS FAST IN STABLED CATTLE

Ringworm usually strikes hardest at cattle during the period from January to May and tends to spread rapidly among stabled animals, especially among calves 4 to 12 months old. Human beings can become infested with the bovine ringworm and should, therefore, avoid contact with affected animals or use protective devices, such as rubber gloves. Lesions appear as crusty, grayish areas varying in size from a dime to a silver dollar around the eyes, frontal region, neck, and other parts of the body. In some herds, up to 75 per cent of the animals may be affected. Various medicinal preparations give good results in the treatment of this condition. Compounds containing iodine, alcohol, or other irritating substances are dangerous to use on lesions around the eyes, although such preparations may be used advantageously on other parts of the body.

A patent is the price paid by the public to get something from which it may benefit, says National Patent Council. The public benefits by full and detailed disclosure of the invention with privilege of using it freely after a 17-year period.

Where Does Your Money Go?

Read the other day where country folks and farmers spend more money, proportionately, on their homes than city dwellers do.

Doesn't seem hard to believe when you think it over. Take the folks in our town, for instance: They're home-loving people—who'd rather spend an evening by the fire with a mellow glass of beer than go out in search of entertainment or diversion.

So it's only natural they put more into what means most to them and to their children: their homes. They may not have too much to spend—but it goes for those permanent, abiding comforts that make home a nicer place to be.

And from where I sit, that budget calls for some of the niceties of home life too—like elder and popcorn for the kids from time to time, and a friendly glass of beer for Mom and Dad... things that belong with what we mean when we say "Home."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When washing windows during the winter put a small quantity of ammonia or vinegar into the water. This helps to keep the water from freezing on the glass.

When laundering lace collars, sew the collars on white muslin. This will help keep them in shape.

Protect your rubbers from oil and soil. Oil causes blistering, and soil will cause rubber articles to chip and crack and lose their resilient strength. Clean well after using.

Fix a towel rack on the back of baby's high chair, on which you can keep such handy items as a damp wash cloth, a bib and a towel.

For a larger and fluffier omelet, add hot instead of cold water when beating the egg yolks.

Keep acid foods, such as tomatoes, lemons and vinegar off the porcelain enamel of a range or refrigerator. They cause stains that won't come off.

Excessive use of oil or thinners will reduce the covering power of any paint.

Do not put woolen blankets through a wringer when washing them. Place in thick turkish towels first, then pass through wringer. Avoid changing temperature of water from hot to cold, only tepid water must be used. Dry blankets indoors on flat surface after stretching to size.

Keep on hand: Percolator tops, electric fuses, an assortment of corks, waxed paper, paper napkins, a box of tacks, an extra can-opener, extra light bulbs, a ball of twine, bicycle tape.

WHEAT PIT ACTION AS PRICES TUMBLE . . . Across the nation the big news was that prices of corn, wheat, cattle and hogs had tumbled drastically in the commodity markets. While happy housewives hailed the price drops as a possible harbinger of lower prices in the grocery stores, frenetic traders in the wheat pit at the Chicago board of trade (above) shouted and waved their arms in the rush of active and nervous trading. Although it was too early for any definite predictions, some experts immediately analyzed the downward price trend in the commodity markets as the beginning of a healthy price adjustment leading toward gradual deflation.

STITCH IN TIME—OPERATION PARADOX . . . When a real Arctic rescue must be made there is little time for planning, so the U. Here, a simulated wrecked plane with "survivors" waving wildly in front of it and an "SOS" written in huge letters in the snow marks the objective of the rescue plane in "Operation Paradox" at Goose Bay, Labrador. Following the call for help, dogs are rushed by plane to the scene of the wreckage and there dropped with a parachute, together with a dog driver and a doctor.

THE FICTION CORNER

THE RUG

By VIRGINIA SULLIVAN TOMLINSON

I KNEW the Farraday family before it happened. I knew them first when I was nine and Ellen Farraday was eight and in my class at school.

There were two other Farraday children: Skippy, the baby, who was five, and Dora, seventeen, just entering business school. Dora was engaged to marry Danny Wright, who ran the service-station in town. Mr. Farraday was branch manager of our local bank. "Such a nice, quiet man," people said. "If only that wife of his were not such a fool."

I didn't think Mrs. Farraday was a fool. I liked her. The sprawling old Farraday house, with its sagging porch, was always in need of repair, the shabby living-room would be cluttered and dishes unwashed, but Mrs. Farraday was never too busy to plan games for rainy afternoons or picnics in summer in their rickety old car. She was little and quick and dark, with rather kittenish ways; always thinking up something new and "exciting"—like the dress she designed for Dora that won the prize in the Easter parade.

There was nothing I loved more than going over to the Farraday house whenever I had the chance. Saturday mornings they always had pancakes; Sundays they had sausages and Boston baked beans and applesauce in a blue glass dish. And they had laughter. A great deal of laughter—except when Aunt Abbey came to call.

Aunt Abbey was Mr. Farraday's aunt, a very rich, very unpleasant old lady who lived in an imposing granite house at the end of town. It was no secret that she disapproved bitterly of the entire Farraday family. Why she visited them nobody knew, unless it was because, of all her relatives, they refused to be impressed by her money or upset by her caustic tongue. They merely accepted her, all but Mrs. Farraday, who seemed to like having Aunt Abbey around. Curiously enough, it was of Mrs. Farraday herself that Aunt Abbey most bitterly disapproved.

"My nephew's wife isn't fooling me," she'd say. "Always pretending to be so gay. What's she got to be happy about, I'd like to know? If my nephew had married a sensible woman, he'd have amounted to something by now."

"I declare," my mother said, "it gives me the creeps, the way that old lady looks at Mrs. Farraday. I believe she really hates her."

"She hates them all," my father said, "because they've got what she never had. The Farradays have contentment. All Aunt Abbey has is money, and when she's gone they'll have that, too."

Only they didn't. Because when Aunt Abbey died the year Ellen Farraday was nine, she left them no money at all. Her entire estate went to charity, with one exception. She left Mrs. Farraday a rug. It was an Oriental rug, exceptionally large and lovely; golden in color, satiny to the touch, starred with dusty pink flowers.

"It's a shame," people said, "when those children need money so. But of course they can sell the rug. It's valuable and Orientals are in vogue." Then a dealer offered Mrs. Farraday $25,000 for her rug. The town rejoiced for the Farradays. This meant college for the children and money to fix up the old house. But, to the amazement of everyone, Mrs. Farraday stubbornly refused to sell. She had always admired that rug, she said. She'd been as surprised as anyone when Aunt Abbey had left it to her. She had always thought Aunt Abbey disliked her; all those unkind remarks she used to make. But now she was grateful for the rug and meant to keep it.

Since the narrow living room at the Farradays was too small for the rug, Mr. Farraday was persuaded to sell the home and rent a house with larger rooms. Their old stuff looked pretty shabby against the rug, so with the money from the sale of the home they bought new furniture. And after awhile, because of the friends they acquired in the new surroundings, the Farradays bought a new car, too.

I saw less of Ellen now, except at school. Gradually my visits to the She'd taken Skippy to the picnic, hadn't she? She should not have gone off with that beau of hers, leaving the child alone by the lake.

Farradays had ceased, partly because my mother disapproved of Dora Farraday's new friends. Dora had always been a sweet, docile little thing, ambitious to get along. Now she had given up business school. She had even broken off her engagement to Danny Wright. Dora had a new beau now; one she'd met through her "crowd." Nobody liked him, but he was rich and he gave Dora a good time. He had a weak, handsome face and a loud scoffing laugh. I'd see them together as I walked home from school, dashing around town in his rakish car or going into Van's Place for drinks. People felt sorry for Danny Wright. He'd been so crazy about Dora, and always so glad to have Skippy and Ellen around.

DORA's new beau didn't like children. He objected to Skippy trailing her about. Skippy was six now, very spoiled and rather a nuisance; but it seemed hardly fair to blame Dora entirely for what happened at the Elks' picnic that year. Everyone said, though, that it was Dora's fault. She'd taken Skippy to the picnic, hadn't she? She should not have gone off with that beau of hers, leaving the child alone by the lake. My father was one of the men who Elks' picnic that year. Everyone took Skippy's little body out of the water that night. My mother sat with Mrs. Farraday when they brought him home. Dora Farraday didn't come home at all. She sent a telegram. It arrived just as they were bringing Skippy's body into the house. Dora had left Skippy alone by the lake to elope to New York with her new beau.

Ellen continued at school; she had always been very quiet. And after awhile, Mrs. Farraday went about the town again, holding her head very high, smiling her fixed, gay smile. Only Mr. Farraday seemed changed. He aged visibly that year. Nobody was surprised when the cold he caught just before Christmas turned into pneumonia. The doctors said that he just hadn't the will to live.

Dora came home when her father died. Mrs. Farraday sent her the money. Dora's husband had left her and Dora had been working in New York, clerking in a store. People thought that perhaps she'd stay home now, since her mother needed her, but nobody really expected she would. Danny Wright was married now, to one of Dora's former classmates, a plain little girl with adoring eyes. They came to Mr. Farraday's funeral, sitting closely together in the church. The week after the funeral Dora went back to her job in New York, and the day after she left Mrs. Farraday came to see my father about selling her rug to pay her bills.

My father did his best; but this was a depression year—and nobody had money now for Oriental rugs. The five thousand dollars he finally got from a dealer barely paid for Mr. Farraday's funeral and for Mrs. Farraday's debts. Mrs. Farraday got a job at the hotel. Her salary included room and board, so that Ellen could live with her, too.

It was storming hard the day they moved down there. We left them alone and drove home through the snow-covered town, passing the old Farraday house on the way. Nobody lived in it now. Tears crowded behind my lids as we drove slowly by.

"They were happy in that house," my father said. "A great pity they ever moved out of it. If Aunt Abbey knew what she was doing when she made that will, then she must be laughing now in her grave."

My mother spoke suddenly. "That's it!" she exclaimed. "She did know what she was doing. And I'm surprised that I never thought of it before."

"What do you mean?" My father stared at her. Her voice had sounded strange.

"She knew exactly what she was doing!" my mother said. "And wherever she is—she probably is laughing Aunt Abbey knew that Mrs. Farraday would never be able to resist living up to that rug!"

Cities Grant Pay Increases

To Help Meet Rising Costs

Scores of cities are granting pay raises to municipal employees to help them meet increased living costs. In Cleveland the mayor agreed to grant pay raises to municipal employees which will cost the city $2,100,000 this year. Fire and police personnel received a $240 a year increase, plus six new holidays to be added to annual furloughs.

White collar employees of Cleveland will get a $180 annual raise if they make less than $3,000 a year. Their increase will be 6.5 per cent if they make more than $3,000 annually.

Pittsburgh councilmen earmarked $1,200,000 for municipal pay raises. Biggest pay boosts went to employees receiving $2,000 a year or less.

Chicago's record city budget for 1948 includes pay increases of 8.5 per cent for municipal employees earning less than $5,000 a year, plus raises averaging $300 a year for higher paid employees.

In Omaha, all city employees have been given a flat $15 per month wage boost. The increase will affect approximately 1,260 workers.

New York City boosted the salaries of 42 top city officials. The action added $86,000 to this year's payroll.

War and Population

Although nations involved in World War II count their total war dead at 15 million, the world's population now is 10 per cent larger than it was in 1939. That increase is one of the reasons for continued hunger in countries which have not been able to restore food production to its prewar level.

Bacteria in Cleaning

Experiments have revealed that at least 297 times as many ineffective bacteria are stirred up by sweeping with a dry broom as are released with a vacuum cleaner—that a carpet sweeper stirs up 19 times as many bacteria as the vacuum device.

Your Fire Loss

Direct losses by fire in 1947 soared to an unprecedented 700 million dollars, or 23 per cent higher than in 1946. This fire loss, if apportioned equally among America's 60 million jobholders, would cost each wage-earner $11.66.

Labor Agreements

Forty-five per cent of all wage earners covered by collective bargaining agreements were employed under closed shop and union shop conditions, according to a Twentieth Century fund report.

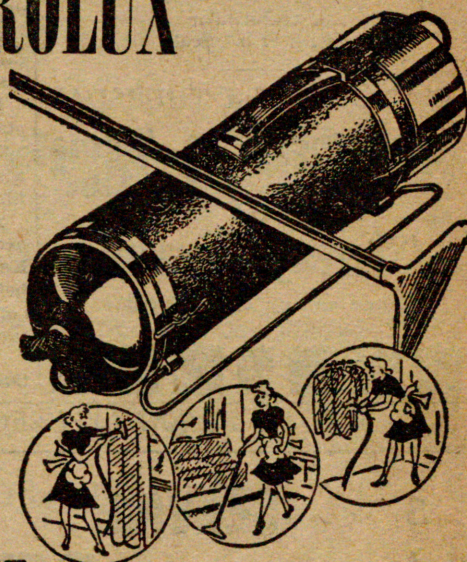

Cornelia Otis Skinner, well known and beloved throughout the country, is the star of the sumptuous revival of Oscar Wilde's "Lady Windermere's Fan" which will play a week's engagement at the Davidson Theatre, Milwaukee beginning Monday February 23rd.

Foolish Driving Gets A Rebuke

A railroad engineer, whose train nearly crashed into a car, addressed an open letter to "the youth and his girl" in the car.

His letter, sent to The World-Herald says:

"I don't know who you are, it's true, but I do know you were scared to death Sunday evening near 9 o'clock when you drove your car across directly in front of a speeding passenger train. It was so close that I, in the cab, could see the young girl (your sweetheart, I presume) throw her hands up in front of her face and cringe up against you in stark horror.

"If I were that young girl I'd pull away from you, fast. You don't have good sense, son. You probably say you love her. I wonder. Those we love we try to protect. But not you.

"Wouldn't that have been a nice present to hand your mother—a broken and battered body. And how do you think that we in the cab of that engine would feel. We are human beings, too. We have young ones waiting home for us to return. We, too, could have been killed.

"You and your girl were one second from eternity, son.

"I hope you read this and know it means you, and that your girl will, too. Next time you go driving around, stop and look. We don't want to hit you but we are helpless, as we cannot swerve from our given rail.

"If I were you, son, and you, too, sis, I'd thank God for that split second He granted you.

"I said a prayer for all when I realized you were going across. Perhaps that's what saved us all.

"Now think it over, both of you. And I'll bet you are both still shaking in your shoes.

"And please, for God's sake, don't try it again."—Omaha (Neb.) World Herald.

20th Anniversary

Friday, February 20, was a gala day for Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wanner, when a group of relatives and friends, numbering 45, came to spend the evening with them and help them celebrate their 20th wedding anniversary. The evening was spent playing various games. Those making high scores were

Mrs. Walter Nickels, Mrs. Carl Weber, Alvin Wanner, Jr., and Harold Ulrich. Mrs. Wanner was presented with a corsage and the group presented them a purse. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

The PTA of district 152, Green Garden, held its meeting Saturday evening instead of Friday night, since the electricity was off Friday evening for several hours. There were 21 present and games were played after the meeting.

The Bobzin-Swinford Auxiliary will hold a bake sale Saturday, February 28, at the post office beginning at 2 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuch visited with the Earl Lichtenwalters in Manhattan Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warning left Saturday for Warsaw, Ind., to visit their daughter, Mrs. Fred Hunter, who has been in the hospital since January. She is not getting along very well. Mrs. Hunter has been ailing for the past few years. She had recovered sufficiently to come here and visit her parents, but since then she has not been so well.

Frankfort Unit

The Founder's day meeting of the Frankfort unit was held Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. The meeting opened with Mrs. Herbert Folkers leading the group in the pledge to the flag, prayer, and singing.

She then introduced the Rev. Lloyd Coleman, pastor of the Frankfort Methodist church, who gave a lecture on "New Salem," and showed many beautiful slides in full color.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Clarence Heisner, who presented a playlet, "The Four Cornerstones of PTA." Mrs. Lester Heisner was the narrator, and Mrs. Fred Piepenbrink, Mrs. Elmer Sievert, Mrs. Orville Schroeder, and Mrs. Harry Miller took part. They represented home, school, church, and community. Mrs. Wallace Welchbrodt represented the people, and Mrs. Coleman, the PTA.

Following this, Carol Lee Weichselberger played "Stars and Stripes," and "The Florence Polka," while a silver offering was taken for the state PTA. Routine business was transacted.

The Young Womans circle of Green Garden Methodist church will hold an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Chester Steinberg February 26, beginning at 10:30 a. m.

Work is being started on the Methodist church this week, which was planned for sometime ago, but due to the shortage of materials it couldn't be done. It will include plastering and decorating.

Miss Vera Staff spent the week end with her parents.

The Frankfort MYF met Sunday evening at 7 p. m. Mrs. Coleman was the special speaker.

About Electric Blankets and Comforters

... new contributions to Better Living

FOR many years the Public Service Company has helped to introduce many useful electrical appliances into Northern Illinois homes. Now we feel it is timely to inform the public of another new use of electricity... electric blankets and comforters. Here are some facts about them.

Electric blanket production during the war was restricted so that electrically heated flying suits could be manufactured for the Air Forces. In the development of these flying suits, a great amount of research and testing was done. Because of the extreme temperatures encountered by the flyers (as low as 60 degrees below zero) and the hard usage given the suits by the bomber crews, a fine, extremely flexible wire was needed. As a result, a wiring system was developed that was so sturdy it outlived the fabric.

They Are Dependable

All the research and testing accomplished during the war years has contributed directly to the dependable and efficient operation of these new electric bed coverings. Tiny thermostats provide protection from possible overheating due to abuse. Leading brands are approved by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., and those we offer for sale have been thoroughly tested and approved by Public Service Company's own testing laboratory.

Ordinary bed covers can only insulate the body from changing room temperatures. It is the heat of the body and the number of covers added that controls the temperature in the bed. In order to be perfectly comfortable with ordinary covers in a room where the temperature is constantly changing, they would have to be added and removed throughout the night.

With only one electric blanket or comforter, the proper amount of warmth is maintained throughout the night regardless of changing temperatures. The warmth given by the electrically heated cover is a gentle heat that can barely be felt by the hand. The bedside control regulates the heat automatically, and provides many degrees of warmth from which to choose. With only one cover per bed needed the bedmaking problem is simplified. It means easier cleaning and storing when not in use, too.

Many Types Available

There are several types of electric bed coverings—a blanket designed for a double bed with a dual temperature control so two people in the same bed can select the degree of warmth each wants for his half of the bed. Another is a satin comforter which operates like the blanket. And still another type of blanket operates on the same general principle as the others but the temperature is electronically controlled by the temperature of the bed rather than that of the room. Electric bed coverings are available in a variety of attractive colors, and in both twin and double bed sizes.

Care is No Problem

Electric blankets can be washed the same as any other fine piece of wool. They are certified washable by the American Institute of Laundering and many good laundries will wash them for you. The electric comforter has a sheet containing the wires which is removable for washing. The satin covering is cleaned like an ordinary comforter.

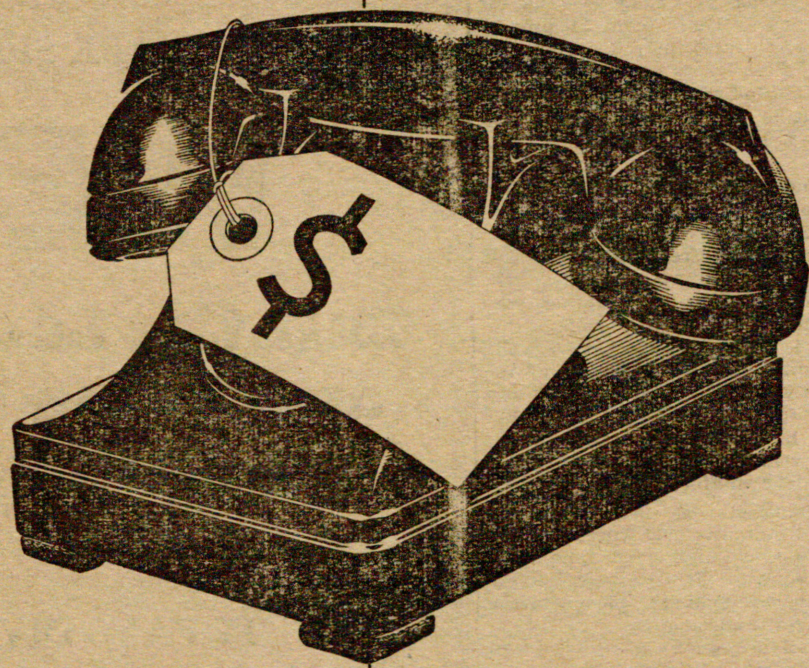

What you sleep under is just as important to sleeping comfort as what you sleep on. Electric bed coverings, the first important improvement in sleeping comfort in many years, are a major addition to the long list of conveniences which electricity has brought to the American home. Users are unanimous in expressing their satisfaction with this new contribution to their comfort.

MILKER

Only the Surge milks with a stimulating, automatic downward and forward TUG & PULL that holds the teat cups down where they belong. That allows the milk to flow freely... that enables the Surge to milk the cows dry with no help from you.

That is why more and more people are demanding Surge Milkers... that is why constantly increasing production can't quite catch up with the demand... that's why it will pay you well to wait just a little longer and get a Surge.
